OH NO Volcano!

is a game about a peaceful village, a mean old volcano, and lots and lots of falling stuff. It's a story of adventure and bravery in the face of impossible odds!

At its core, ONV is a basic 2D physics game. Tilting your device back and forth controls a big net, which you use to catch projectiles as they are hurled by the volcano.

The gameplay is simple, but players keep coming back for the challenge of beating the high scores and the curiosity of what the volcano will launch next. Racking up consecutive catches keeps the bonus point multiplier high, so it pays to keep the village safe!

OH NO Volcano! takes the addictive fun of this simple formula and brings it to life in a whimsical world of rich beauty and adventure!

Projectiles

range from rocks and lava to coins and aid crates. Catch the rocks with the net, but if you catch a blob of hot lava, it will burn right through! In order to make it safe to catch, you must tap the lava blob, and it will cool into a rock. Catching coins will give you more points, and catching aid crates helps to restore the health of the village. The game ends when the village crumbles and its health reaches zero.

Stats keep track of your achievements as a net wielding wonder. In addition to the simple but compelling goal of beating your personal high score, OH NO Volcano! features a myriad of motivators like high scores, most consecutive catches, medals for achievements, and rare items to collect! Everything is conveniently logged in the Stats & Extras section with the option to share your accomplishments with your friends over social media!

Rare Items are fun collectibles consisting of antiques, relics and fossils from history(ish) and legend. They range from common (1 star) to uber rare (5 stars). There are over 50 cool items in various categories like shields, daggers, and dinosaur bones. A homage to gaming culture, they are a treat to discover and collect. Like plundering the treasures of a thousand kingdoms, they're an affectionate nod to the collective mythology of 'nerdom'.
